HOCKEY STINGERS SPLIT PAIR

The Concordia Stingers split a pair of games against the league's top teams last week to temporarily vacate the cellar in the tough Quebec University Hockey League. Concordia won a third straight over the Ottawa Gee Gees on Thursday at Loyola scoring three times in the final five minutes to grab a 3-2 decision. Frank Iammateo was the offensive star with two goals.

The next night in Trois Rivieres the Stingers battled the first place Patriotes on even terms for two periods before the Pats broke the game wide open with six third period goals to come away with a 10-3 victory. Trois Rivieres then lost on Sunday in Chicoutimi 6-4 which moved the Stingers back into last place with six games to play.

Concordia will be in Hull on Monday (Feb. 3) to face Ottawa before returning to Loyola on Thursday (Feb. 6) for an important rematch with Trois Rivieres. Both games begin at 7:30 p.m.
